YOUR LOVE IS MY LIFE
(A Poem)

I felt you with the breeze
That flows throughout the land and the sky
With every breath with so ease
That I breathed with you, I fly high
Thinking of my love, which is my life.

The streets with the night lights
That lit the dark with colours bright
With your hands that had the healing touch
Loved I with a heart so much
Walking all the way now through those streets
I do believe in you always
Thinking of my love, which is my life.

That you filled my heart
With love so transforming
With the beauty of thoughts that
Always remain bubbling

With your thoughts in the day and at night
Thinking of my love which is my life.

Why I linked my love with a belief so high
Tangled it with spirits so divine
The feeling of your touch
That kissed my heart
I am blinded by your love
That which must have been created so long by the heavenly gods
Your love lifts my heart and breaks the darkness
I always believe in you
Thinking of my love which is my life.

The roads, the environs, the timeless space we shared
All is so contained in my heart
Times spent with you
Life's happiest hours!
Laughing all the way, happiness brimmed my heart
That we spoke our hearts out
Of all the miseries and sorrows in the days of flashback
With all sorrows receding and happiness taking its place
I am now intact and not broken
So secure and submitted I am with you
My love, my life, my all
Thinking of you, who is my life!
